

Which of the following sentences is grammatically correct? Circle the letter corresponding to the correct one.

1.

- a. The Dutch are famous for the production of tulip
- b. The Hollandians are famous for the production of tulips
- c. The Dutch are famous for the production of tulips
- d. The Duches are famous for the production of tulips

2.

- a. I wonder why she did not say hello. She could not have seen me
- b. I wonder why she did not say hello. She may not have seen me
- c. I wonder because she did not say hello. She may not have seen me
- d. I wonder why she did not say hello. She may not have see me

3.

- a. Give me a hand, will?
- b. Give me a hand, will you
- c. Give me a hand , won't you?
- d. Will you give me a hand, will you?

4.

- a. Lisa were so tired after cleaned the whole house that she could have slept for weeks
- b. Lisa was so tired after have cleaned the whole house that she could have slept for weeks
- c. Lisa was so tired after having cleaned the whole house that she would have slept for weeks
- d. Lisa was so tired after having cleaned the whole house that she could have slept for weeks

5.

- a. I have not been able to sleep recently because I have too much of personal problems
- b. I have not been able to sleep recently because I have too many personal problems
- c. I has not been able to sleep recently because I have much problems
- d. I have not be able to sleep recently because I have too many of problems

6.

- a. The application forms is available at the front desk
- b. The application forms are available in the front desk
- c. The application forms are available at the front desk
- d. The application forms are available by the front desk

7.

- a. Flight 2056 is expected to land at Galilei airport in Pisa
- b. Flight 2056 is expected landing at Galilei airport in Pisa
- c. Flight 2056 is expected to land in Galilei airport of Pisa
- d. Flight 2056 is expected To land on Galilei airport at Pisa